Primary Years Program (PYP)

The Primary Years Programme (PYP), focuses on the development of the whole child, in the classroom but also in the world outside, through other environments where children learn. It offers a framework that meets children's several needs: academic, social, physical, emotional and cultural.

The Programme is a comprehensive approach to teaching and learning:

- an international curriculum model that provides guidelines for what students learn
- a teaching methodology, which includes a profile of the PYP student
  - 1. inquirers
  - 2. thinkers
  - 3. communicators
  - 4. risk takers
  - 5. knowledgeable
  - 6. principled
  - 7. caring
  - 8. open-minded
  - 9. well balanced
  - 10. reflective
- assessment strategies

At the heart of the PYP is a commitment to structured inquiry as a vehicle for learning.

Thinking Globally, Acting Locally

On June 2, I along with my Grade 5 classmates participated in our first PYP Exhibition where we displayed our research projects to our parents, school and community. We chose a global issue and we did a unit of inquiry on it. Our motto was Thinking Globally, Acting Locally.

We researched our issue, discovered what the problem was globally, formed an opinion and created a local action to show how we can help. We did research through people, books the Internet and going out into our community to interview experts on our issue. It was sometimes hard because we found if you looked at the issue from different perspectives, you really had to think about your own perspective and how it impacts us locally and globally.

We discovered that educating people was the best way to help and we really wanted to think of interesting ways: game shows, songs, web pages, pamphlets and surveys were only some of the actions we chose. We also learned about metacognition—which means to think about how you think. We did think about thinking and how we learn—some people like to see things, others like to hear about information and still others like to write about what they are learning. We did discover that everyone has their own way and that is what makes us special.

It has been written, that there are four kinds of people in this world:
Those who wonder what happened
Those who want things to happen
Those who watch things happen and Those who make things happen

Our central idea of this unit of inquiry was "Knowledge of issues today help mold the minds of tomorrow". After finishing this project, I learned I can make a difference and I want to be a person that makes things happen. I know that by telling others about a problem helps to solve the problem. Ideas come from others because different people look at things different ways. Kids can make changes and that is something that I will remember for a long time.

Head of School Message

This edition of The Portal allows me to reflect on the year just past, and share with you some of our future activities. The 2003–2004 BH year offered us many opportunities to demonstrate the enthusiasm and drive that characterizes members of the BH Family. Among the many highlights was our continuing support of the Girls for the Cure Walk/Run in support of breast cancer research, hosting noted psychologist Dr. JoAnn Deak during a series of parent and teacher workshops and honouring Linda Cook, CEO of Shell Canada at the 2004 Yes She Can Award Dinner.

While many of these activities provide recognition of BH success outside our walls, I am also very proud of the achievements of our students. Please review the list on Pages 2 and 3 of awards presented during Closing Exercises. In the very near future, we will also be sharing additional student achievements in areas including Math Contests, Heritage Fairs and Science Fairs.

2003–2004 also marks the completion of my first 5 years as Head of School. When I joined BH in the fall of 1999, one of the first tasks was to implement the 1999–2004 BH Strategic Plan, which put an emphasis on achieving the personal best for all students. I want to share with you an example of how we have met the challenge of this objective.

The BH Advanced Placement (AP) program offers our students the opportunity to receive credit for completing first year University-level course work while still in Senior School.

Over the past couple of years, we have made great strides in improving our performance in the AP exams. For example, the first year BH students participated in the Math AP exams, no one achieved the highest standard for University placement. In 2004, 90% of the participating students achieved the highest standard. We have had similar successes in Biology and Physics. We are continuing to increase the number of students who successfully complete AP courses at BH. As proud as we are of the academic rigour signified by these achievements, it is an even bigger accomplishment when we recognize it has been achieved by providing a nurturing, caring environment for our students, and a welcoming atmosphere for the extended BH Family.

Over the past 5 years, we have built a strong foundation at BH with our success in aligning our International Baccalaureate Primary Years Program (IBPYP), Pre-Advanced Placement and Advanced Placement programs around three strategies—critical thinking, academic rigor and successful learning strategies. We are now poised to take the next step in meeting our school-wide commitment to being the premiere independent school for girls in Canada. For the past several months, a committee of parents, students and staff has been hard at work on the Balmoral Hall School 2004–2009 Strategic Plan, called “Building the Future, Today”. While further details will be forthcoming, the Plan will introduce the concept of planned growth. Briefly, planned growth means achieving the finest education possible for our students through an ongoing commitment to the highest standards for the academic program, broadening access for qualified students, expansion of technology integration into the curriculum and investing in the appropriate infrastructure to support BH activities. In support of planned growth, we are focused on building a strong Annual Fund. This soon-to-be launched campaign will raise funds to enhance various areas of school life and will have an immediate impact on students' education.

It is no secret that providing the best facilities and opportunities for our students requires financial support from the entire BH Family. As you read The Portal, you will note that we have been extremely fortunate to receive incredible support from students, parents and alumnae donors. From the establishment of new Named Funds, to major donations to our laptop initiative, to our newest alumnae (class of 2003 and 2004) starting their own Class Funds, we have received support not only for the day-to-day workings of the School, but also to provide a margin of excellence beyond the budget.

I continue to be inspired by the many ways our staff, students and community have embraced “Believe, Achieve, Succeed—Yes We Can”. Over the past year, we have used these words, and the actions they support, as a way to share our energy, confidence and commitment to achieving a high standard of academic rigour in a nurturing, caring environment. In closing, I would like to share with you what these phrases mean to us:

We Believe...In ourselves and our abilities to achieve great things

We Achieve...By challenging the status quo

We Succeed...Because we have the confidence to be risk-takers

Youth in Philanthropy

Sarah Murdoch '04, BH YiP Chair

2003–2004 marked Balmoral Hall's fifth year being involved in Youth in Philanthropy (YiP). YiP is a program run in several schools across Winnipeg and Manitoba, involving over 300 students. An incredibly rewarding and worthwhile experience, YiP is about learning the principles and processes of philanthropy and having the opportunity to apply them around the city. Committees work together from September to May to establish criteria and values for charitable organizations that they would like to grant money to. Committees then research and visit these organizations.

This year's BH committee consisted of thirty students under teacher advisor Mrs. Shyka. The girls divided into three sub-committees, Inner City & Poverty, Health, and Education. They visited twenty different organizations related to these categories; including Main Street Project, Youth Employment Services, Grace Hospice, and Alpha House, to name a few. And of course, after much discussion and debate, the funds provided by the Winnipeg Foundation were granted to the organizations that the group as a whole selected.

Highlights of the year included a conference in October when we had the opportunity to meet other students involved, an evening at Government House, and a celebration event in May for the students and grant recipients. Everyone involved enjoyed learning more about the needs present in Winnipeg, the multiplicity of organizations that address them, and what they can do to support them.

This past spring I had the incredible opportunity to attend the Community Foundations of Canada National Conference in Quebec City as part of the Youth in Philanthropy Inter-School Committee. Fifteen other high school students and I went to the conference and had a great experience learning about other community foundations in Canada and meeting hundreds of adults and youth engaged in the philanthropy "movement." It took place from May 14–16, 2004 and involved sessions that highlighted such things as the significance of sharing about your community, how to go about obtaining endowments, committee structure, and where Canada and its community foundations are headed. I had a great time while at the sessions, touring around old Quebec City and of course, communicating eloquently en français. It was a fantastic, engaging and inspiring event!

Girls for the Cure Walk/Run

Now in its 4th year, this annual event is intended to heighten awareness among girls and young women about breast cancer and raise funds for research, treatment and patient care in Manitoba. This year's Girls for the Cure Walk/Run is on October 7, 2004—Kick off in the Richardson Hall Athletic Centre at 1:15 pm. Alumnae and Parents are welcome to join in the fun! Come out and support a great cause! For more information call Heather Welch, Student & Residence Activities Coordinator at 204.784.1655

On October 6, 2004 at Balmoral Hall School, the Guardian Angel Youth Awareness Forum has arranged for 3 guest speakers to address students on the issue of smoking and the benefits of a healthy lifestyle. The speakers are:

- Cathy Scott, Winnipeg fitness expert and breast cancer survivor to discuss the importance of staying fit.
- Venessa Schreyer '93, Owner of Designer Nutritional Services, to share teenager friendly healthy eating recommendations.
- Glenda Standeum, with the living smoke free message "stop what you can prevent"

Little Girls, Huge Hearts

Hannah Taylor is credited with raising directly and indirectly nearly $100,000 for the estimated 2,000 homeless people in Winnipeg.

When Hannah was in Grade 1, she rallied her classmates to collect clothes and cans of coffee for a local homeless shelter. The girls then participated in a bake and art sale to further their fundraising efforts. Hannah's commitment grew steadily, culminating in the creation of her Lady Bug Fund in support of the homeless. Joined by her classmates now in Grade 2, Hannah and friends decorated hundreds of jars for distribution throughout Winnipeg. Hannah continues to share her message with schools and businesses. Still a little girl, she has embraced her passion for advocacy and shares it with her community.

Classmates of Hannah Taylor work extremely hard making hundreds of ladybug jars to collect funds for a homeless shelter.

Hannah Taylor ... Student Leader for the Homeless

During an assembly Hannah speaks to the student body.

Through the Eyes of an Advocate

Excerpts from Save the Whales letter
Taylor Maavara '07

Tuna casserole: a simple meal, tasty, healthy and easy to make. It is a favourite of my mum's. I used to eat it without question. Last month, however, a few things had changed. She was cooking it for dinner when I walked into the kitchen. I saw what she was cooking and groaned. She asked what was wrong. "To catch tuna they have to kill other endangered animals," I replied. "Oh, don't worry, it's dolphin friendly," she said and held the can up to my face. That wasn't good enough for me. "Sure it is, but is it turtle, shark or whale friendly? I'll only eat it if they caught the tuna in either traps, on lines or in nets with release gates for other animals." She didn't know what to say.

A year ago, I was oblivious to any of these issues. Then I went whale watching, and somehow I got hooked on saving the environment. Now I've started a club, and our main goal is to spread awareness. By educating the public on this issue, we can take small steps towards ending these problems. We are starting a petition and sending it to Prime Minister Paul Martin with hopes that he will join the International Whaling Commission.

A Whole New Meaning to the Words "Doggy Bag"

Following an Inquiry Unit on folk tales called Long Ago and Far Away, Bryanna Sherbo '13 was inspired to make a difference. Let's go back to where it all began...Back in March, special guest and author of the "Nanabosho" books, Joe McLellan, shared with the Grade 3 classes his stories as well as his story writing process.

To accompany his stories, he sang and played the hand drum. In the Ojibway culture, he explained, the sound of the drum symbolizes a mother's heartbeat, which is the first sound a baby hears. The sound of the drum reminds a child of their place in their mother's heart. Joe asked the girls to remember the times their mothers told them how special they were. He asked the students to reflect on what they believed to be their own special gift, and to imagine how they could use it to better the world.

Following the visit, each member of the Grade 3 classes wrote a thank you note to Joe. In Bryanna's note, she explained how she thought she could make a difference. She wrote about her love for animals and that she had decided to raise money for the Winnipeg Humane Society. She spoke about her idea with her family as well as her teacher, Ms Konyk-Pastuck. Bryanna went on a "behind the scenes" tour of the Humane Society and in class afterwards, shared what she had learned. Bryanna asked her peers to help her with this worthy cause. Bryanna's idea was to have each girl make a handmade "Doggy Bag".

As an art project, paper bags were decorated with paw prints and dog-related images. The bags would then be displayed in workplaces or used by individuals to collect funds. Bryanna took the bags home and distributed them to interested students, businesses and individuals. To date, Bryanna has raised nearly $1,000.00 for the Humane Society! Bryanna says that both Joe McLellan and schoolmate Hannah Taylor inspired and encouraged her to make a difference.

National Student Debating

Baillie Klein '04 prepares to compete in the English category for Team Manitoba.

Young alumnae return to the Common Room, a familiar and favourite place in the School. Seen here on break from judging the National Debating Tournament.

The many teams discuss and prepare for their upcoming debate.

Balmoral Hall School, along with schools in Winnipeg, St. Pierre, and Oak Bank, played host to 68 of the finest high school debaters and public speakers in Canada. These students were chosen by their provinces to represent them in a national competition that featured English, French and bilingual categories. Balmoral Hall's Baillie Klein was on Team Manitoba competing in the English category.

The students arrived in Winnipeg on April 25th and embarked on a full five days of competition, tours, fellowship and learning. They competed in three different types of debate style; parliamentary, cross-examination and academic. In addition to the debates, they also competed in a speech contest and held a mock parliament, all while making new friends and exploring new ideas. The theme of this year's competition was 'Immigration and Multiculturalism' and Winnipeg proved to be the perfect place to showcase this theme.

The participants were treated to tours of the Manitoba Museum, The Ukrainian Cultural Centre, the St. Boniface Museum, the Steinbach Mennonite Museum as well as a 'mini Folklorama' gala evening of entertainment and an awards banquet held at Balmoral Hall School. The contests were hard fought in front of classrooms full of students of all ages. All of the judges (many of whom were BH alumnae) and students marveled at the high standard of skills displayed by the debaters. This was a wonderful opportunity for our students to witness first hand the skills that make these debaters national champions.

An impressive number of alumnae reunite to judge the National Debating Tournament, (back row) Meena Bhullar '03, Laura Penner '03, Ashley Zajac '02, Carla Goncalo '01, (middle row) Johsa Manzanilla '03, Riya Ganguly '03, Amy Dhillon '03, Laura Lemon '03 (front row) Meredith Tapper '03, Lauren Seaman '03, Mhelanni Gorre '02, and Marcie Hawranik '02.

Congratulations to Sarah Murdoch '04 who won the United Nations Public Speaking Competition in the Senior 3 & 4 division. At the competition, held at Silver Heights Collegiate on March 9, 2004, Sarah spoke on the changing role of the United Nations in today's world. Sarah was awarded with the Hon. Edward Schreyer trophy. Also competing for BH were Victoria Schaeffer '08 and Rachel Chen '05. Congratulations to all of the participants!

Balmoral Hall Invades Italy

Susan Sammons, Grade 8 Teacher

Over Spring Break, 34 teachers and students traveled to Italy to explore the art, architecture, history and culture of that great country. Landing in Milan, we drove to Verona where we visited the neighborhood of Romeo and Juliet. While several students touched the bronze statue of Juliet, others read the hundreds of messages left on the walls by visiting lovers. In Venice, we floated through the canals on gondolas, climbed to the top of the bell tower and walked through the Basilica of St. Mark. Having refreshments and sitting in the cafes of the famous Piazza San Marco was expensive, but worth it!

Florence provided an opportunity to view Michelangelo's David and in Pisa, we all climbed to the top of the famous leaning tower! In Assisi, Sorrento and the Isle of Capri, our days were filled with wonderful paintings, walled cities, and breath-taking views of the sea and student birthday celebrations. Arriving in Pompeii and Rome we witnessed the remains of the many achievements of the Roman Empire. Besides culture and history, we learned about Italian washrooms, auto grills, Italian men, subways, Italian traffic, jet foils, Italian ice cream and of course, airports! Traveling with such a wonderful group of young women was an exhausting pleasure; one we will never forget!

Reflections of a BH Graduate

Tiffany Sobczak '04

When I first started at BH, I was both relieved and worried at the same time. Relieved that I was leaving the environment in which I had started my education where not only were my fellow students' nasty towards me, but the staff as well. I was worried also that BH would be the same. This was not the case; my fellow students welcomed me with open arms.

On my first day as a visitor, one of my future friends introduced me to the group of girls which I was to become a member of in less than six months. I'll never forget the way that I was introduced, her exact words were, "Girls, this is Tiffany. She's here on a visit and I'm showing her the ropes". Within seconds of this most unusual introduction everyone of those girls had begun giving me "Tips on How to Survive Life at BH". I also got advice on everything from which teachers to avoid if having uniform "issues" to what foods to avoid at lunch.

On that day, I was able to attend one class with my new friends. The class was Grade 8 Math with Mr. Joe Reid. During this class, I wasn't afraid to raise my hand even though I was a guest. I took notes with the other girls, did the in-class work and to my surprise was called on twice. I felt like one of the girls especially at the end of the class when I was asked to stay behind only to be complimented on my "fearless approach to this new adventure." Over the next four years, I learned exactly how accurate my first impression of this wonderful place had been. I continued to find new friends in my fellow students and shining examples of humanity in my teachers. I feel truly blessed to have been a part of this and I will miss this second family terribly.

Tiffany Sobczak '04 had the privilege of spending the day with Mrs. Kamins acting as Principal of Senior School for a day (a prize auctioned off at the Balmoral Hall Parent Association Dinner Dance & Auction earlier in the year)

A Parent's Reflection

The Senior High years are very important and significant in a young woman's education and BH has proven to be the best choice for Tiffany's education. During her time at BH, we have watched a steady progression of education achievements, personal growth, discovery of strengths, identification of areas that needed improvement, the desire to find that special career path, strength to make personal changes and the interest to pursue dreams.

Balmoral Hall School provides an environment where each student is regarded as an individual and learning activities are suited to create the needed "spark of enthusiasm". Students are always encouraged with support and interest from the teachers and staff. Respect and understanding of themselves, others and the community are always a part of this special mix of education. BH is more than a school—it is a special family.

The public school system that Tiffany left in Grade 8 was not providing the necessary facets of educating and nourishing of Tiffany's needs. Tiffany did not feel safe in this environment and hated going to school. As a special needs student, the system segregated her and made her feel incompetent and an outsider. During this time we watched Tiffany struggle to do her best in an impossible environment. She began to doubt herself, feel incompetent had no sense of belonging and was not having fun.

We were so pleased when we found that Balmoral Hall's Senior School was wheelchair accessible. After interviews, testing and more interviews, Tiffany became a part of the BH Family. She has always felt as though she belonged at BH and has not looked back since. There were many personal and educational challenges that needed to be overcome and Tiffany proudly rose to the occasion. This would not have been the case without the support and philosophy of the BH community. You Believe in your students, they do Achieve and Tiffany did Succeed. We all have reason to be proud.

Chester and Sue Sobczak

This year's soccer team is the first in BH history to win the Zone 12 conference title. The girls finished in 2nd place during regular season with a 3-1-1 record.

In the semi-finals, the girls played Linden Christian School who had tied them previously. In a fantastic "mud bowl", BH proved too much for their rivals, winning 2-0. The final pitted BH against

A 1st for BH!

Immanuel Christian School, the only school to have defeated them during regular season. It, too, was played on a soggy, mud-soaked pitch. Once again BH came ready to play and, once again, proved too much for their opponents. The final score was 1-0 with Christine Siddall scoring the goal on a penalty kick!

The girls then moved onto the Provincials in June 2004. Although the team lost its matches, this was the first time the BH soccer team has advanced this far. There were also a record number of students who tried out for the soccer team this year...over 50 girls in Grades 9-12 tried out for the team! The most valuable soccer player was Maria Schultz and most improved player was Kristine Wilson. We are already looking forward to next year's season!

Claire Sumerlus addresses the students, staff and parents at the 4th Annual Athletic Banquet—May 25, 2004

We Believe... in the power of Healthy Lifestyles; forming the foundation for our growth and health; now and in the future.

We Achieve... athletic rigor in a competitive but nurturing environment, by seeking regular physical activity and challenging the skills in a variety of activities.

We Succeed... with confidence to strive for a lifetime of personal fitness, in our school, our home and our community.

Our athletic program provides opportunities to participate in hands-on meaningful experiences that are an essential part of the learning process. We provide students with a wide range of sporting activities that can be in the form of individual or team sport and further developing the skills needed to learn about organizational and officiating roles in sport.

We hope that achieving a personal level of success and confidence will encourage lifelong activities on their own.

Excerpts from Alana Miller's Keynote address at the 2004 Balmoral Hall Athletic Banquet.

"Being here brings back memories of my volleyball career in my graduating year. On tryout day, armed with only the rules of the game learned in gym class, I put on a confident smile and lined up with the 'experts' who had played since Grade 7. I had no idea what I was up against. My serves were awesome: just a combination of a tennis serve and a badminton smash. Fortunately, the coach had difficulty finding someone who could spike from the left side so she told me if I could learn that skill she could use me on the team. And I did.

Since graduating, there hasn't been time for team sports, but I have done a lot of competing in squash as well as furthering my academic goals. For the last six months, however, I've only played squash. I've been competing in the Pro Squash tour traveling and playing all over the world: I've won; I've lost; I've cried; I've laughed; I've fallen asleep in the corner of airports; I've flown 'red eye' flights to save a few bucks; at times I've had only a few bucks in my pocket.

"Playing against such awesome competition is not easy but I see it as a "once in a lifetime experience." Hopefully I'll know when it's time to grow up, pack my racquets and get a real job."

My first pro experience was last May in Salt Lake City. With a #140 world ranking I drew an Australian ranked #33. She was fit with bulging biceps, she was fast and could run all day, and she wore a tough look. I was intimidated. Was I being fed to the dogs? The match was short, I didn't get a point. With my pride blown to the wind, I accepted the consolation prize: pick myself up and work harder.

With time though, I began to see my competitors in a different light: Why were these players all so good? Maybe I can learn from them. I began to watch their matches with a critical eye and noticed they reached so many balls because of good anticipation, so I too started anticipating.

I noticed they made few errors during comfortable play but made errors just like me when under pressure, so I increased the pressure. And most importantly, I began to believe I could play at their level."

A Briefing on the Athletic History of Alana Miller '98

- 2004 Canadian Women's Squash Champion
- Winner of six national junior squash Championships.
- Winner of the under 16 National Junior Badminton Championship
- No. 1 Manitoba women's Open Tennis Champion from 1999 to 2003
- Member of Balmoral Hall's '98 volleyball and track team

"I have been playing racquet sports: badminton, tennis and squash—since I was seven. Throughout my sports career I have balanced competition with academics. At times, this combination was challenging. For the past six months, I have been playing on the women's pro squash tour and plan to continue for at least another year. I hope to improve my ranking from my current position of No. 46 into the Top 20. Upon completion of my competitive career, I plan to attend graduate school to study Medicine."

BH High Achievers...

Congratulations to Balmoral Hall Senior 4 students Jennifer Dyck-Sprout and Kyla Caners for being honoured with Wendy's Classic Achiever Scholarships. Both students were chosen from over 7,600 applicants nationally for demonstrating excellence in academic performance, community service and participation in extracurricular activities. As a result of Jennifer receiving one of the top 10 awards, Balmoral Hall was also recognized with a monetary award.

Yes, She Can

2004 Yes She Can Award Dinner

Tina Alto, Director of Advancement

Linda Cook, President and CEO of Shell Canada Limited received the 2004 Balmoral Hall School "Yes She Can" Award in recognition of her leadership within the global marketplace at a gala dinner in Winnipeg on June 14, 2004.

In accepting the 2004 Yes She Can Award, Ms. Cook stated, "I am truly honoured to receive this award. Yes She Can—a simple, but powerful statement". During her acceptance speech, Ms. Cook related how six women influenced and inspired her, including Margaret Thatcher, Marie Curie, Roberta Bondar and her mom. She acknowledged, "These women all share a belief in the importance of education, a strong work ethic, great perseverance, a supportive family and did not perceive gender as a barrier to their dreams. Such women are not deterred by convention nor are they limited by stereotyping."

She concluded with "You don't have to be born into power and privilege, although you may be. You don't have to experience grief and deprivation to do great things, yet hardship and loss should not hold you back. You may seek to influence people in a very public way, or you may prefer anonymity. Don't forget that, for thousands of years, women have honed their skills as influencers without overt power. As wives and mothers we have cajoled and persuaded to great effect. And nothing is more challenging or more important than raising children to be productive, contributing members of society. So, as you can see, "Women Who Can" are everywhere."

In August 2004, Ms. Cook will leave Canada to join the Royal Dutch Petroleum Company of the Netherlands as a Managing Director, and a member of the Committee of Managing Directors for the global Royal Dutch/Shell Group.

Claire Sumerlus, Head of School remarked, "Linda Cook is an outstanding role model for all of us, but most notably for our girls and young women". She continued, "I am proud of the role BH plays in supporting the development of the next generation of exceptional women".

The "Yes She Can" award is presented by Balmoral Hall School to celebrate positive role models for young women and to recognize the achievements of women who have gained national and international prominence in their fields of endeavour. This year's event raised $40,000 towards our Centennial Endowment Fund in support of scholarships and bursaries. Thank you to the organizing committee, chaired by Mr. Ken Bicknell, Past Board Chair.

Mr. Kerry Hawkins (former Board of Governors Chair),
Ms. Linda Cook and Claire Sumerlus, Head of School.

The Party

The annual Parent Association Dinner, Dance and Auction fundraiser held on March 6, 2004 at the Winnipeg Fairmont hotel proved to be a fantastic night. The Party saw guests dancing the night away to the famous 60s and 70s tunes of Winnipeg's own Free Ride Band. The evening's success is credited to the generosity of the local business community, the giving spirit of the BH parent body, the tireless efforts of the dance committee, the help of many volunteers and the staff at BH.

Thank you especially to committee co-chairs, Charlotte Sytnyk, Shawn Doty and Shawna Cook.

Tickets, auction, grab bags—the profit turned out to be over a cool $58,000!

First Alum Joins the Meliora Petens Legacy Society

Deborah Metcalfe '76 makes a planned gift to BH.

believes she can help a great girl whose parents haven't the financial means to send her to BH.

"I'd love to be able to give $25,000 every year, but I can't. Naming the School in your Will or via life insurance policies are great ways to make a sizeable donation to the School, without financial difficulty. As a BH alumna, I know only too well the difference a great education can make in a young woman's future."

Actively involved in the School, Deborah is Past President of the Alumnae Association and was Treasurer for the Alumnae Centennial Reunion in 2002. Currently, she serves on the Board of Balmoral Hall School as Chair of the Finance Committee. Since 1995, she has been the CFO/Investment Advisor for Bieber Securities Inc. in Winnipeg.

Deborah believes that joining the Meliora Petens Legacy Society through a planned gift to the School sends an important message to other potential donors. "I don't think that it is ever too early to start thinking about the future."

Deborah Metcalfe '76 recently joined the Meliora Petens Legacy Society.

This society recognizes special donors who have included Balmoral Hall School in their estate planning and have notified the Advancement Office. In addition to making her yearly gift to the BH Annual Fund, Deborah explains, "I have made BH a partial beneficiary on one of my life insurance policies. This is just in case something happens to me before I am financially able to make a large donation to the school myself."

Deborah agrees that making a planned gift is about leaving a legacy. For her, it demonstrates commitment and a desire to make a contribution to the future. By designating her gift to the Endowment Fund for scholarship and bursaries, she

Newly Named Fund Grows Centennial Endowment

In the spring of 2004, we had an alumna visit us from Wichita, Kansas! Betty (Morton) Christian graduated from Riverbend School in 1938, attended the University of Manitoba and then Iowa State where she obtained her Doctorate in Chemistry. She taught Kindergarten for a number of years and has lived most of her life in Kansas.

Betty's knowledge of the school system and interest in early year education prompted her to make a donation to the School's Endowment Fund. The Betty (Morton) Christian Fund supports our efforts to fund scholarships, relieving the pressure on the School's operating budget. We are very grateful for this generous gift!

Major Donors Support a Growing Laptop Program for BH Girls

Recently, current parent and Chair of BH's Advancement Committee, James Morden and his wife Janice made a $100,000 donation towards our laptop program. They join an anonymous donor who also contributed over $60,000 to this important initiative.

These gifts follow both donors earlier contributions to the highly successful Debt Reduction Campaign. We are very grateful for the leadership role these donors have taken in advancing the mission of BH and building opportunities for our students.

Supporting BH Students

Every June, many BH students are the recipients of scholarships awarded at Closing Exercises. Several of these scholarships are Named Funds that were established by alumnae, parents and members of the BH Family. Named Endowment Funds are a special way for donors to make a meaningful gift to the School, while at the same time honouring an individual or group by naming a fund after them. Over the past year, Balmoral Hall has received several donations towards many of the existing Named Funds, and, a few new funds were also established!

Directing your Donation

This year's Annual Fund brochure has a new pledge card that encourages alumnae to direct their gift to the following funds. Building these funds allows operating budget dollars currently used, to be redirected towards programming, curriculum enrichment and special initiatives for students.

All funds received in support of our Named Funds and our general Centennial Endowment Fund are under the professional management of The Winnipeg Foundation.

In 1970, two endowed funds in memory of Rosemary Gordon Condo '66, were established by family, classmates, staff and the Alumnae Association. For over 30 years, BH girls have benefited from the interest income generated by these funds.

This year, Vanessa Heron '04 and Lisa Koss '04 shared the Rosemary Gordon Condo Memorial Award. Lisa writes, "Thank you very much for selecting me to be one of the co-recipients of the Rosemary Gordon Condo Memorial Award. The money that I received from this award will be put toward my university education at Simon Fraser University where I will be studying Business Administration."

The Rosemary Gordon Condo Library Award is presented annually to a student who gives the most assistance to the Library during the school year. This year, Melanie Riggs '06 was the recipient.

Leah Wong '04 (left) and Maria Schultz '04 (2002 and 2003 recipients) display a recent addition to the library, in memory of Rosemary Condo '66. The lovely photo of Rosemary in the 1970 yearbook and the accompanying tribute written by Janet (Harrison) Burrell BH '65 is now framed and displayed in the Library.

The Elsie M. Bartlett Fund, recognizing a former Head of School, has grown to over $5,239! When it reaches $20,000, it will live in perpetuity and the interest earned each year will ensure a scholarship is given to a returning student entering Grade 9. Although not yet self-sufficient, BH subsidizes this scholarship so that it can be awarded annually.

This year, Nora Fien and Jenna Brown both received the Elsie M. Bartlett Scholarship after having successfully completed the scholarship requirements. Nora has been at BH for eight years and held a 96% average in Grade 8, the highest in her grade. Jenna started at BH in 2003 and when asked about the meaning of receiving this scholarship said, "Being awarded the E.M. Bartlett Scholarship was a wonderful surprise. It was a privilege to be chosen for the award and the responsibility connected with it will motivate me to continue to work hard to achieve my goals. Applying for the scholarship also helped me realize how much I accomplished in the past few years. Thank you!"

The Michelle Geri Pratt Scholarship was awarded for the first time this year. In June, Erica Scharfstein '08 received it in recognition of her improvement in writing skills over the course of the school year. The Michelle Geri Pratt Scholarship was established in 2003 in memory of Mrs. Jackie Copp (Head of Academic Studies & Principal of Middle School) and Mr. Reg Pratt's daughter.

Miss Nellie Lucas in 1962.

In 2003, the Nellie Lucas Fund was established to remember a beloved Secretary & BH Registrar and has raised $2,225. A minimum of $20,000 is necessary before this fund can become a granting fund to a deserving student.

An alumna donor recently forwarded us this quotation which she has kept in her graduation yearbook and had marked "so like Nellie Lucas".

*She has achieved success
Who has lived well, laughed often and loved much;
Who has gained the respect of intelligent men and women, and the love of little children,
Who has filled her niche
and accomplished her task;
Who has left the world better than she found it,
Who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it;
Who has looked for the best in others and given the best she had.
Whose life is an inspiration.*

We hope you will consider directing your annual gift to one of these named funds.

A New Direction for the Annual Fund

2005 Annual Fund

Annual gifts to Balmoral Hall support the daily lives of students and teachers. These gifts provide critical support to the School's operating budget by offsetting expenses not covered in tuition.

You may wonder why Balmoral Hall needs to fundraise with the tuition fees at their current levels. As an independent school, we do rely in large part on tuition fees to cover school costs. Tuition in fact covers 80% of educating a BH student. In addition to tuition, the school receives a per-student grant from the Province of Manitoba. Combined, these two sources of income still leave a gap in the operating budget. This is where the Annual Fund comes in.

Across North America, independent schools like BH run annual fundraising campaigns. Every fall, parents, alumnae, staff, grandparents, parents of alumnae and friends are invited to support not only the day-to-day workings of the School, but to provide a margin of excellence beyond the budget.

Soon, you will receive materials asking you to consider making a tax-deductible donation to the Balmoral Hall Annual Fund. Maximizing participation is our goal for 2004–05. We want to reach as close to 100% participation among our entire BH Family—please remember that every gift makes a difference to the School!

Thank You!

To all our donors in 2003–04, thank you for making Balmoral Hall School a priority in your charitable giving. We have enclosed our Donor List in this issue of the magazine in appreciation of your support!

First Class Fund Started by the Alums of 2003!

Laura Lemon '03 and Andi Sharma '03 met at the School to sign a letter to their classmates announcing the new Class of 2003 Fund.

To meet the increased need for a strong scholarship & bursary program at BH, the Class of 2003 has established the 1st ever Class Fund! Using dollars from their grad budget, the girls wanted to honour the memory of Michelle Geri Pratt, daughter of our Principal of Middle School Jackie Copp, who was killed tragically in a car accident last year.

The Class of 2003 Fund will continue to grow with annual gifts from these alumnae and upon reaching $20,000, it will become a granting fund. Thank you Class of 2003 for starting a new tradition of giving at BH!

The graduates of 2003 start a Class Fund at BH.

Class of 2004 Fund

Following in the steps of the girls before them, the Class of 2004 Fund has also been established. The class has decided that when the fund reaches a granting amount, the interest earned will ensure that no daughter or granddaughter of the Class of 2004 will ever be turned away from BH for financial reasons.

Parents of our 2003 and 2004 Graduates:

If you would like to help your daughter's Class Fund grow, please feel free to direct your annual gift by indicating the fund name on your donation form.

Starting Your Class Fund

All Class Funds are professionally managed by The Winnipeg Foundation. If you would like to support the BH girls of today by starting a Class Fund for your graduating class, please contact Geneviève Delaquis in the Annual Fund Office at 204.784.1603 or annualfund@balmoralhall.com

Susan Rich '87 Closing Exercises Keynote Speaker, 2004

Susan Rich '87

"It is quite something to be back here, in Westminster Church, embraced again by the BH Family. A surprising amount of time has passed since I was sitting where you are today, wearing a white dress I still have somewhere, in case suddenly I find I need a formal tablecloth. The journey from my proud tearful graduation day in 1987 to today's proud tearful graduation day has taken me from Winnipeg to Montreal to Boston to New York to Toronto. And a surprising amount has happened in that time. I'm now an Executive Editor at HarperCollins Children's Books.

Certainly, the journey started here. I joined the BH Family in Grade Six, in the fall of 1980. Balmoral Hall turned out to be exactly the right thing for me. From the unhappy, uninvolved underachiever I had been in Grade 5, by Grade 6, I was transformed into the one protesting that new girls couldn't run for student office. BH in Grade 6 marked the beginning, in some way, I think, of me becoming myself. I loved it here. I was Vice Head of Junior School that spring. I wore my green socks

"Follow your interests. Find something you love to do. Resist falling in love with the idea of doing a certain something, and find the certain something you actually love to do. Take on the tremendous challenges your future offers you, knowing that when there is joy in what you do, it is so much easier to enjoy and do well"

pulled up high and was willing to walk home, wearing my uniform, past Kelvin.

When I look back, two things happened in Grade 6 for me: I had more fun in school than I thought possible. I got better grades, got involved and was so much happier. When I look back on what I've accomplished, it seems to me that everything stems out of that lesson I was learning in Grade 6. I did better when I had fun. When I loved what I did, I excelled. And when I didn't, I didn't.

When I set off for McGill University, I was sure political science was for me. I had been Head Girl after all, and so the obvious next step was, of course, Prime Minister. My then older and wiser brother (well, he's still older) told me maybe I should study literature—he had some sense I'd chosen my major because I thought it was the "right" thing to do. But literature didn't seem like a realistic pursuit to me. Literature was for fun. Political science was for real. A year later, I was in graduate school getting a Masters in Children's Literature.

I do believe the most fortunate events of my life have been those moments where I discovered and embraced and had fun with the things I loved: BH, Children's literature & Lemony Snicket.

Each of you is an extraordinary woman. Each of us has the potential to make an impact and have fun. Get to know yourself, find your passion, work hard, and make fun of your life."

Excerpts from the Head of School Address

"Graduations are a time for reflection and anticipation—for you the graduates as well as for those of us—your parents, families and teachers—who have watched you grow and develop into confident, energetic young women eager to take your place in the world beyond the walls of BH."

As teachers and educators, our job is to prepare you for the next phase of your life. Right now, I am sure you would describe your years at BH in terms of papers written, exams completed and activities enjoyed. These are merely tangible examples of our real goal: to provide you with a foundation of knowledge and skills that helped build your confidence and instill in you the belief in your ability to achieve all you desire. As Eleanor Roosevelt once said, "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams."

At BH, we made it our mission to expose you to all sides of an issue, encouraged you to challenge the expected and to boldly go forward with new ideas. In academic terms, we were developing your ability to be a critical thinker. This is a skill you will use on a regular basis in your life, your family and your community. As Charlotte Bunch said: "The state of the world today demands that women become less modest and dream, plan, act, and risk on a larger scale."

I am proud of the accomplishments of our graduating class—we have had outstanding achievement in every area of study, while not losing our focus on caring and nurturing each other and our community."

"To provide you with a foundation of knowledge and skills that helped build your confidence and instill in you the belief in your ability to achieve all you desire."

Kristine Wilson '04 Valedictorian Address,
Closing Exercises 2004.

Excerpts from Valedictorian Address

Last night, upon thinking of my fellow classmates, I realized that all of us are bred for success and that when we made our own motto "Believe, Achieve and then leave", we weren't really that far off of the mark.

Today we have believed in ourselves, achieved the passing grades and have succeeded in receiving our diplomas, but our success is by no means put at an end; our era at Balmoral, however, is. We are leaving Balmoral with not only the intention to conquer the world and maybe a couple of men along the way, but most of all we are leaving Balmoral with friendships and memories that have and will continue to unite us all. What has united us is time spent together, and what time has done is delivered us upon the doorstep of today with bags of memories to carry with us for the remainder of our lives.

"The only direction that I know of, that any of us are suited to take, is forward; whether forward is north, south, east, or west, we will all share the same beginnings."

So what direction do we all take now? The only direction that I know of, that any of us are suited to take, is forward; whether forward is north, south, east, or west, we will all share the same beginnings. Time will bring us back to these beginnings and at our ten year reunion, we will all come back and begin again.

I am confident; however, that in ten years time, I will continue to have these same sentiments and only wish everyone here the best. It is not my intention to wish the very best to my fellow classmates however, without giving a humorous hint of advice and that is: When all of you gorgeous ladies are climbing the ladder of success, don't let creepy men look up your dress!

Sharing in Traditions

Balmoral Hall School has many traditions, a number of them take place in the spring and are eagerly anticipated by each graduating class. These traditions include the Lifer & Doll Assembly, the Cement Handprint, receiving the Alumnae keychains and wearing white dresses at Westminster United Church.

Deborah Morrison '81 Alumnae Association President seen here with soon-to-be alumnae Meghan Fejes, Taren Rankin and Sarah Murdoch all from the Class of 2004.

Rites of Passage

Remarks by Deborah Morrison '81, Alumnae Association President at the Alumnae Assembly, May 2004

"It's an honour for me to participate in today's Alumnae Assembly. Hearing stories about how things were different is interesting isn't it?

The Grade 6 class along with Mrs. Ashdown RIV '39 and Mrs. Aldous RLS '38 shared just how different things were in Winnipeg and at the School in the 1930's. But what is even more interesting is how some things—the important things—stay the same.

There are connections you make here at BH that will last a lifetime—those that you already know about...your friends, your teachers, the imprints you make in your class cement block outside...and those that you won't really understand until several years after graduation.

There are traditions at the School that bring all of us together regardless of when we studied here. A BH girl really is aware of her world in unique ways—whether it is Barbara Aldous RLS '39 traveling to other schools and community events to raise hopes during the Depression, Alana Miller '98 winning the 2004 Canadian Women's Squash Championship or Hannah Taylor '14 painting ladybug jars to raise funds for the homeless.

Other traditions, like the doll ceremony, the Best Friends song, the white dresses, and the Garden Party behind Aikins House that have been a part of the BH rites of passage for over 100 years, are mostly the reminders we need to remember long after we leave: as alumnae we know there will always be a circle of support and friendship to help us believe, achieve, and succeed in whatever we pursue.

And so, as I turn to the 2004 graduating class of Balmoral Hall—knowing that many of you are probably very well prepared, anxious, and impatient to move on to explore all that life has to offer—you've been the role models for these girls all year...and we have high expectations that you will continue to be role models in the future. And when you need some extra energy and support to realize your goals, I hope that you return here to find that source of strength and inspiration.

To remind you of that connection, it has been another tradition for the Alumnae Association to give each graduating student a gift to welcome them as Alumnae. In my day it was a necklace, today it is a gold keychain. Welcome girls!"

This year Grandparents Day took place on April 22 at Balmoral Hall School. Fun was had by all, with a wonderful turn out of over 300 in attendance! The activities took place through out the School in the classrooms, Theatre, Athletic Centre, and the Atrium. We look forward to seeing the Grandparents again next year.

The Havergal Alumnae Association was inaugurated on October 8th, 1914.

The Association presented this pin to its first President, Annie (Crowe) Collum, on the occasion of her marriage in March, 1915. In 1951, at the first Annual Meeting of the Balmoral Hall Alumnae Association, Mrs. Collum made a gift of her pin to the School.

From the time of the Alumnae Reunion in 1987 to the Centennial Reunion in 2002, the pin was worn with pride by successive Presidents of the Alumnae Association. Future Presidents will wear a reproduction of this precious inheritance.

Special thanks to past president Deborah Metcalfe '76 who generously donated the cost of framing as well as contributed to the costs of reproduction.

The School Archives

The Balmoral Hall Archives finally has a clear picture of the Red House. This was the home of G. Harold Aikins, Son of Sir James Aikins. Along with Aikins House, the Red House founded Riverbend School for Girls in 1929. We are thrilled with this new addition to our School Archives. If you have another photo of The Red House and would like to donate it, please call the Alumnae Office at 204.784.1615.

From Miss M.J. Dalton's hand-written memoir of her first days as Principal of Havergal Ladies College in 1901, to the videotape of Balmoral Hall's Centennial Reunion in 2002, the records of our history are collected and preserved in the School Archives.

Located on the second floor of Aikins House, the Archives Room serves as a resource centre for the school population, alumnae, and the wider community. Here, students of today can learn about their predecessors and trace the origins of cherished traditions; teachers are able to incorporate aspects of school history into studies of Manitoba's past; editors of school publications utilize the wealth of photographs and data to enhance their productions, and researchers, writers, and family historians find information needed for their various projects.

Archives are a gift from the past to present and future generations. We are indebted to all those who helped to build the archival collection during more than one hundred years, and to those whose contributions today will ensure its continuity tomorrow.

Dear Ms. Alto:

Re: Romola, Vol. I, George Eliot

We are pleased to forward this very special book for your library archives. It is a fascinating volume which I've taken a brief look through.

It is also an embarrassing find to know that someone in my parent's families sometime borrowed it and neglected to return it. I believe my Grandmother, Mrs. Hermine Little, taught at the school and to be fair to her this was likely included in her homework when she visited us in Calgary in the mid to late 50's. I hope that it will find an appropriate place in your archives and please accept this late penalty payment for your library.

Thank you for sharing the history of Balmoral Hall and especially Eva L. Jones.

Regards,

1950s

Maureen (Ford) Coleman '59
 "Since retiring from my teaching career in 1995, I have enjoyed doing some supply teaching as well as traveling with my husband in our R.V. We have been to many U.S. states as well as most provinces. Newfoundland has been a real favorite with such friendly people, different scenery and seafood. In the winter, we went on a cruise with warm destinations to warm up our blood. Swimming at nearby complex pool as well as summer gardening has helped me to keep activity conscious. I would love to hear from girls that were at BH from 51-57. You can contact me through the BH Alumnae Email Directory at www.balmoralhall.com—A special hello to Lyn Stephen '57 who works in the BH Archives.

Seen here: Susan (right) with Tina Alto, Director of Advancement at Balmoral Hall School. Susan wrote: "Hi Tina: Welcome back to Winnipeg. Hope the rest of your trip to Vancouver was as much fun as our lunch. Thanks for the treat—it was great to meet you. Keep in touch."

Janis McKeag '69

What a flood of memories came rushing back when I saw my picture as part of the 1961 students enjoying the Stepping Stone Collection in the last issue of The Portal. I remember sitting at the table and reading Le Petit Prince. I also remember being given the summer reading list for the first time. While everyone else seemed to complain, I was thrilled. Being an avid reader, I read every one of the books on the list. Most of which we had in our family library. I didn't like writing the book reports that followed in the fall, which is probably why I never became an English teacher. For those of you who do remember me, I am now a Design and Technology teacher at the high school in Anguilla (a small Caribbean island). I cover the basics in drafting, woods, mechanisms and project research and design. I am currently teaching Grade 9-11 (the end of compulsory schooling). I also serve as the Head of the Technical Studies department at the school which includes electrical, auto, and construction. Amazing enough the spring Portal arrived in May. I do enjoy reading the magazine and am envious of all your resources. We still upon occasion have goats and fowl wandering into the classrooms. I would love to hear from any of the other students in the picture.

Spring 2004 has been a busy one! My daughter Courtney turned 18 in April and graduates this year from Venice High in Venice California. If prom planning isn't enough, Anders (7) seems to be attracted to every "xtreme" sport on the planet. Most weekends are filled with motocross, rock climbing and skating. However, most of our time is now spent tending to baby Ava-Liisa born March 22, 2004 in Santa Monica CA. We are living in Culver City. I am taking time out of my "full-time career" to be at home—working P/T as a business and trend analyst for Nygard International and completing a certificate program at UCLA in Fundraising. Thanks again for the BH baby bib!

Susan Rich '87

Here is a picture of Jonah Eliot Greenhut, born June 28th, 2003, drooling away on his BH Beginning bib. Suffice to say we are truly making use of this generous gift—the boy is a generous drooler. Happily, he counts among his friends the young Oscar Feschuk, son of Andrea Baillie '87, and grandson of Ms. Fulton-Baillie. Andrea and I are hoping for a visit from her mom soon so that we can leave the boys in her care and return to find them well-prepared for university math!

Editors Note: see page 16 for excerpts of Susan's keynote address to the 2004 BH grads.

If you have recently had a baby, let us know! We'll send you a BH baby bib and you can get your baby in the next issue!

Deanna Hansen '87 & Jackie Collins '87

Jackie and Deanna came to BH at the turn of spring to check out the newer developments in the School. Both are doing well. Jackie taught at Red River College for a stint last summer, and although she loved the experience (and claims that's what it's all about), she passed up a full time teaching position in lieu of pursuing work more closely suited to her values. She now works at the Wolseley Family Place, and looks forward to an upcoming book launch at McNally Robinson of published poetry and stories written by her and other members of a writing group. Deanna has opened a business with two other women (Therapy and Herbal Alliance), and is doing her own specialized form of body work therapy that she has developed in the spirit of Iyengar Yoga. She hopes to write a book one day to enlighten the masses on some pretty powerful healing techniques.

Andrea Baillie '87

Andrea and husband Dave Feschuk welcomed their first child on November 13, 2003. His name is Oscar Harvey Feschuk, named after his 91 year old great-grandfather. He is also the grandson of Terry Fulton-Baillie, long time Math teacher at BH.

1990s*Heather (Jessiman) Partridge '90

In addition to the BH bib, I added a prop! I still had that dragon thing (I can't remember what his name is). The kids are (l-r) Eddie & Thomas Partridge and Truxton & Addison Lama. Thomas and Truxton were born a few days apart. Carol (Wintemute) Lama '88 and I discovered we were neighbours when we had the boys out one day. Small world! Our BH connection instantly kicked in and we have been friends ever since!

"I am an exploration geologist with Penn West Petroleum in Calgary. I graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Geology from the University of Calgary in 2001 and have been working at Penn West ever since. I love geology, and until university I never even knew it was something you could make a career of! I still ride horses but in the last couple years have switched my athletic focus to rock climbing. I love climbing and have been doing trips to climb in Western Canada, Utah, Nevada and other states. It's a great sport. I still keep in touch with some BHers but would love to hear from more! If anyone is ever in Calgary give me a call or email me. I hope everyone is doing well!"

My boyfriend and I moved to Calgary in the summer of 2000. I continued to study psychology at the University of Calgary, but have recently switched to education. We have a 2 year old son, named Ashton. He starts pre-pre school in the fall (if he's potty trained). We also moved into a new house this summer and now I'm totally Martha Stewart. I love sewing, crafts, and going to jail. Good-bye for now. Hope to see you all at a reunion sometime!"

Sarah Coates '00

"I have a quick update for you, I had been applying for international internships funded by Foreign Affairs Canada, and implemented by various Universities and NGOs in Canada. Interns go overseas for 6 months and work with a local NGO or government in the spectrum of human rights, development, etc. I had been turned down (but shortlisted) for the Acadia program, and had started to discount the possibility of this plan of mine. However, I was contacted by the director and offered a position at a children's theatre in Kosovo. I was over the moon for 3 days, until FAC cancelled the internship because Kosovo was deemed not safe. However, I was still promised a position, and 3 days later confirmed that I am going to Sarajevo, Bosnia-Herzegovina for six months (Aug–Feb) to work to expand and sophisticate an Adult Education network in the country. So, the long and the short of it is that I have a job that is just wonderful, and that I know I can be passionate of and for."

Jennifer Skerritt '00

Amelie Sellig '03

"I just wanted to say that I loved my time at BH even though I was just there for one year. It probably was the best year I have ever had up to today. Two days ago I graduated from my school in Germany and I hope that I'll come back to Winnipeg soon. Enjoy your time at BH, girls!"

Ashley Makeiff '03

"I stopped by in April to visit the great teachers and the future graduates of BH. Here is an update on what my year was like. From September to January, I worked at the Charleswood Curling Club as a bar tender. In November, I started working at Desserts Plus as a waitress. Also during that time I was job shadowing with a lawyer. I have been taking 3 classes through spring and summer and finish University 1 in April 2005. I spent New Years with the BH crew: Julia, Christy, Meena, Hersha and Meredith to name a few."

Hersha Goldberg '03

"Although I was only in Winnipeg for three days, and had so many things to do and people to see, visiting BH was at the top of my list. How could I pass up such a wonderful opportunity to visit my extended family that I have missed so much? Balmoral Hall School exposed me to amazing, one of a kind experiences and people. This past year, I was incredibly lucky to be able to follow my dreams and study Pastry Arts at Le Cordon Bleu in Ottawa. This summer, I am apprenticing at the Italian Bakery in Ottawa and sending out resumes all over the world. Now that I have experienced and mastered life on my own, I am ready for anything! Thank you BH!"

Christy Kolt '03

"Hi, I just finished my first year of university at the University of Winnipeg, though it was quite stressful, I think I am going to miss going to class everyday. It was a very different experience compared to high school, but the transition was easy and I was ready for the new challenges. I will be continuing to study Science at the University of Winnipeg for at least the next two years, and then hopefully I will be off to medicine! I also recently visited the school and was fortunate enough to see the election speeches for next year's Prefects. They were excellent and I know that the girls next year will be well prepared and create an exciting year for the school. I was welcomed back to the school by so many people that a trip to BH at any time is always worth the visit."

Saskia Hoogstraten '03

"Hey everyone! I hope you are all doing well. It's been almost a year since I left for Switzerland and now I'm back and have just finished my first year at the U of W, which went pretty well, as far as I know! Now I'm working at Club Monaco and helping Mr. Warriner coach the BH soccer team. I'm also getting involved with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Other than that, I'll be relaxing at the lake! I'm not going far (yet) so I'm sure I'll see everyone soon."

Romina Saint-Martin '05

Romina is enthusiastic about appearing on the cover of her favorite magazine and would like to have a career in Medicine. Like many of the students that come from Mexico, Romina attended BH for one year. She is currently in her second year of preparatory school at Pearson Collegiate.

Balmoral Hall Art Exhibition 2004

This year's exhibition showcases artwork from Grade 6 to Senior 4. Whether considered from the viewpoint of the creative potential that it offers our student artists, or from the effect that it has on people in general, "humour is something that should be cherished, preserved and nurtured". Many of this year's projects were conceived purely because they tweaked the funny bone and tickled the intellect. The idea behind them was to trigger the students' comic imagination by encouraging free association and critical thinking.

The students' program this year included many elements of humour which are sometimes taught individually but most often are in combination with other mechanisms. They are: association, transposition, transformation, contradiction, exaggeration, parody, pun, disguise, satire, narration and appropriation.

The Grade 6 students looked at a variety of unconventional portraits produced by a number of well-known artists and then proceeded to create their very own wacky and wonderful self-portraits using mixed media. Their pen and ink drawings of symbols and designs made famous by Klee. The Optical Illusions that you see, with the surreal touches, were inspired by the British artist, Bridget Riley. Her undulating patterns and lines really force the viewer to look closely. We hope that you will do the same. Their final projects, currently in the works, are vases modeled after Greek designs but given a very contemporary look.

The Senior 1 classes looked at a number of artists who have made a significant contribution to visual humour as art. One of the best theater caricaturists of the last century was Al Hirschfield and his work inspired the students' pen and ink drawings. The challenge was to use decorative designs to enhance their artwork. Mona Lisa inspired parodies transformed the familiar to the unfamiliar in the acrylic portraits. Each one is unique and different and most effective. Cultural Identity projects are currently underway and will showcase the personalities and characteristics of the artists.

The Senior 2's American Gothic Project used image manipulation. After a formal study of Grant Woods painting, the students were asked to create a parody of the famous American Gothic. Many of their paintings are based on today's popular culture. The Dinner Party settings are based on well-known and humorous works by famous artists. The students were challenged to see the subject of food explored imaginatively. They were then asked to invent a new way to represent food in an artistic manner. Again they looked at Surrealist art that juxtaposes normally unrelated objects in a realistic manner.

Finally, the Senior 3 and 4 students used appropriation to transform different pieces of furniture into works of art. Many looked to famous artists for inspiration and the results were exceptional. Turning something two dimensional into a three dimensional form is quite a challenge. Fantasy Art with a touch of Surrealism is evident in the Fleur Cowles inspired animal paintings. The objective was to place a real animal into a surreal setting. Many students worked in oil for the first time. The fantasy clocks were done simply for fun with the objective being to take a clock and create a complete contradiction. It is all about the element of surprise.

The show concluded with a number of independent projects produced by the senior students. These works allow for total freedom of expression and the opportunity for them to explore subjects and use materials that appeal to their true sense of creativity.

insects put a humorous spin on conventional looking bugs that were transformed into beautiful and intricate patterns and lines. The Funky Salmon Project developed from a study of West Coast native art. The papier-mache fish were exaggerated and made to appear unnatural and unreal. The students also studied the cartooning techniques of Bruce Blitz and then created their very own characters. The Canadian quilt that hangs in the exhibition was designed and hand painted to connect specifically to the students' Social Studies curriculum.

The Grade 7 students have been working with water colours this year. Following the reading of a delightful story in Language Arts, the students painted whimsical paintings of fish and created shadow boxes. The latter were made of mixed media, including handmade papers. Currently in the works are three-dimensional sculptures of their hands. Their sculptures are developing into true works of art and require significant problem solving skills and mastery of several different media.

The Grade 8 students studied the Surrealists, and in particular, Paul Klee. Following their own classroom studies of ancient peoples they combined cave styled paintings with the child like
